Airport Controversy Remains Unsettled

By PATRICIA REID
Of The News Staff

The controversial issue of zoning designations surrounding Cable Airport in Upland is still unsettled. Even though the City Council recently approved a general plan amendment designating an area 1/4 mile east of Benson Ave., as "low density residential" and a zone change to extend the city park a "clear zone" 750 feet eastward along 14th St., the question of the zoning designation on the area 750 feet east of Benson Ave., between 13th and 15th Streets is still up in the air.

Last Thursday night the Planning Commission finally met (after a couple of cancelled meetings due to a national day of mourning and difficulty getting members together) and Planning Director Rod Anderson drafted a resolution which set a public hearing for Thursday night, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in Council Chambers to consider rezoning from R-D (research and development) to M-1 (light industrial) most of the property located on the east side of Benson Ave. between 13th and 15th St.

In a rare split, at the last Council meeting, Mayor Abner B. Haldeman and Councilman Harold A. Bailin joined in opposing the general plan amendment. The mayor expressed concern that the proposed move could prevent future development of Cable Airport.

Bailin wanted to delay changing the current "City Park" designation of the 160-acre area (designated as city park and golf course) until land owners in the area specifically requested the zoning changes.

The majority of the council contended that future residential development would be adequately protected by the industrial and park zones. Councilmen A. M. Hawkins and John McCarthy noted land owners want the city to designate the land according to its intended usage.

Consistently since the Jan. 11 Planning Commission meeting members of the Upland Chamber of Commerce Airport Task Force Committee have made pleas to have an industrial zone (M-1) instead of R-D as recommended by the Planning Commission for a 40.2 acre area located on the east side of Benson Ave. between 13th and 15th Streets.

Spokesman Randy Bond told the Council the M-1 zoning would provide for the most practical and productive use of land in this area. Bond said the industrial area will never develop under its current research and development zoning which is more restrictive than light manufacturing zoning.

"Only five percent of the land in the city is zoned for industrial now and this is a very unbalanced relationship," Bond said.

Research and Development zoning allows laboratories, research facilities, offices, electronic firms and even restaurants. Under the M-1 light industrial designation assembly operations, machine shops and other forms of more detailed manufacturing would be allowed in the area without a conditional use permit.

If approved, the zone would allow light plants similar to those located in The Upland Industrial Park on west Ninth Street.

At the Council meeting and again, via letter, at the Planning Commission meeting Thursday, Dewey and Paul Cable, owners of the airport, asked that the "green belt" be widened by .6 acres to provide more of a clear zone over the landing pattern of planes using the airport.

Plans For Local Bus Line Underway

At the next City Council meeting -- Feb. 20 -- Upland City Manager Elwin "Pinky" Alder is to have ready a report concerning alternatives to contracting with the Southern California Rapid Transit District (SCRTD) for a proposed new Ontario-Upland bus line.

The bus line proposal has met with a series of delays since early January. The Ontario City Council voted to accept the RTD proposal which would carry a $3212 net cost per month for both cities. But, the Upland Council declined to give its approval recently after learning the city administration had not studied the possibility of leasing the bus service from a private firm.

Alder said the report will cover the advantages and disadvantages of all possible bus route alternatives, including leasing bus service from private operators, establishing a city operated mini-bus line, contracting with RTD and obtaining federal funding for a bus line. The report was to have been ready in time for the Feb. 5 Council meeting but was delayed.

The administrative staffs from Ontario and Upland had recommended early in January that the cities contract with RTD for the bus line which would follow Euclid Ave from south Ontario to the Upland Town Center.

The proposed RTD line would also service the court facilities on Mountain Ave. in Ontario and San Antonio Community Hospital in Upland.

Roger D. Hughbanks, Ontario's assistant city manager, said his staff is waiting for the Upland staff study and council action.

Valley Bicycle System Now Extends Into Upland

On Feb. 5 the Upland Council approved Upland's inclusion in the Pomona Valley Regional Bicycle Trail System.

The council also approved $7,500 for laying black top along the approximately 1 1/4 mile portion of the trail which passes through Upland.

The 25 mile regional route primarily will use the San Antonio and San Jose Washes and Thompson Creek flood control right-of-ways.

In Upland the route will have a northern boundary near Baseline Road. The route will then extend southward along the San Antonio Wash to Foothill Blvd., where the bikeway will travel east to Claremont Blvd. The route moves south along Claremont Blvd. until Arrow Highway where it again connects with the San Antonio Wash.

Montclair and three other cities must approve the route before an application can be made for a federal grant that would provide half of the estimated $250,000.

'Heaven Bus' Departs Upland

The 'Heaven' bound blue bus carrying Ken Gaub and his Gospel Team family have just left Upland's Second Ave. after calling it "home" for a week. After a week long "crusade" conducted in Upland through the First Assembly of God Church, the Gaubs left Saturday for Northridge.

The Gaub "family" decided 16 years ago to "hit the road" and carry their message far and wide. It's only been within the past three months that they acquired their huge blue bus that has been plushly decorated into a comfortable home and office complete with shag carpeting, pantry, kitchen and four bedrooms and a bath.

Gaub said they've traveled in some kind of similar "Heaven" bound bus for 16 years, but this is the largest one they've ever had. It's a 42 foot long Silver Eagle Continental Trailways bus.

The gospel team, composed of Gaub, his wife, Barbara; and their three children, Nathan, 17, Dandy, 13, and Rebekah, 12; and manager Cecil Graham, present films taken in their world travels and contemporary music. The traveling minister who hails from Yakima, Wash., said he has visited 80 countries and filmed the people, their customs and their worship. In addition, the unique "family" has recorded albums, has a publication entitled Faith in Action and a radio program called Active Faith Hour.

The team has traveled overseas the past six years. The three children are acquiring their education through correspondence courses.

AT FEB. 20 COUNCIL MEETING

Revenue Sharing Topic Of Discussion

The city council will discuss revenue sharing Feb. 20, according to City Administrator Lauren Wasserman.

Montclair's first year allocation will total $250,000. An estimated $7,500 was approved for the first expenditure of revenue sharing funds. The amount will be used for development of a city conservation element, mandated by the state along with eight other "elements."

Funds had not been budgeted for the conservation element previously, Wasserman stated when requesting revenue sharing funds allocation.

Councilman Tom McClure read a personal "warning" to the audience and councilmen concerning revenue sharing. "Revenue sharing is not free money," he said. He pointed out the federal government is cutting back on funding projects such as OEO and Manpower. The burden is going to be on the cities," McClure commented. He stated the city should look at revenue sharing in context of future federal and state fundings.

"The federal government is saying, we'll give you the money, but you develop programs," McClure said. "Citizens should be aware the cities will be responsible for programs that once were on a federal basis."

Wasserman recently mentioned the cities PEP program, employing a number of men subsidized with federal funding, may be one project the city will have to pick up with revenue sharing if it is to be continued.

Mayor Harold Hayes objected to the city having to budget money for the conservation element. He disagreed with the state mandating development of the nine elements, setting deadlines for completion and including no funding aid. "It's legalized blackmail," he said.

A Feb. 20 hearing was scheduled for a proposed boundary change of the underground utility district on Holt Blvd. between Monte Vista St. and Central Ave. City staff has recommended an area designated Paradise Mobile Homes not be subject to undergrounding of utility poles. Expense of undergrounding had been estimated more than $1,000. City Engineer Carl Sawtell stated all "on-sight" poles would be eliminated from the district.

MARLENE GOZALVES OF LA PAZ, BOLIVIA

'I Absolutely Love To Sing And Dance

By PATRICIA REID

"This is my busiest time of the year—promoting American Field Service (AFS) activities," said pretty Marlene Gozálvez, 15, of La Paz, Bolivia. Ms. Gozálvez came huffing and puffing into the Upland News, - Cucamonga Times, loaded down with records and books on Bolivia and native costumes. "This is my fifth program today," she exclaimed, rather excitedly, but with a sparkle in her eye and smile on her face nevertheless.

She had just finished singing and dancing with a group of Campfire Girls from one of the Upland elementary schools. "I absolutely love to sing and dance," she joyfully exclaimed. Upon request, she donned a traditional Indian costume typical of her homeland and posed for some photographs. She was teaching a traditional Spanish dance from Bolivia, called "Daquirari" in Spanish, to the girls who are planning an International folk-dance day in May.

Ms. Gozálvez's spirits really brightened when she began talking about her love of dancing and the various performances she's put on in Bolivia. "I sing the whole day long," she said. Ms. Gozálvez said she hasn't stopped dancing and singing since she was four years old. She spent quite awhile telling about a very special program she starred in called "The Devil's Dance" which was given last Mother's Day in La Paz. This is a very popular, traditional ritualistic dance from 1879. "I played the Angel and wore very heavy and elaborate costumes and jumped all around," she said. She hopes to do more dancing and singing in the area this second half of her visit.

She is now living with the Alvin Banman family, at 306 S. Vallejo Way in Upland. She attends Upland High School and is a senior there. Her American sisters are Marilyn, a sophomore at UHS, and Roselyn, a senior. Jim Banman attends Chaffey College and brothers John and David are younger and stay home.

Her real family in La Paz has two younger brothers, Waldo Jr. and John Albert. Her father, Waldo Berrios Perez is a well known newsbroadcaster for a local station and her mother is a commercial secretary.

Ms. Gozálvez says she's now mastered the trick of learning to "think" in English. She initially had to translate from English to Spanish to English when she first came, but speaks and understands perfect English now. She also speaks French and Indian languages from Bolivia.

She said she hasn't had any trouble at all making friends in America and "has learned so much in human relations." She arrived August 16 and will go home to La Paz this summer after graduation from UHS. This is her first visit to the U. S. and to California.

Marlene just got back from spending four days at the state capitol in Sacramento as part of Youth in Government program sponsored by the Ontario-Upland YMCA. She loved that experience and particularly enjoyed San Francisco. Marlene met foreign students from all over the world and made a lot of friends.

Stokeley Carmichael At Chaffey Tomorrow

Stokeley Carmichael, who first used the term "Black Power" as a rally cry, will speak tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. in the gymnasium at Chaffey College as part of the Black Awareness Week celebration here in the West End.

The one-time Black Panther Party official will appear in the Earl Sicosky Gymnasium. His topic will be "Nkrumahism: the Correct Ideology."

Before settling in Africa, Carmichael was a prime mover with H. Rap Brown in the Students Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and former SNCC chairman. During this phase of his life, he was credited with coining the phrase, "Black Power."

Carmichael is a disciple of Kwame Nkrumah, president of the Republic of Ghana. In his books, Nkrumah has developed and disseminated guidelines intended to strengthen the impact of Blacks on world society.

By applying the Nkrumah philosophy, Carmichael believes that Blacks as a people can strengthen their condition. This accounts for his topic at Chaffey.

Carmichael is a product of Howard University (Washington, D.C.) where he was a student under Dr. Nathan Hare, editor of Black Scholar Magazine.

His wife is renowned African singer Mariam Makeba.

The Carmichael presentation is sponsored by the Associated Students Senate in cooperation with the Black Students Union. Admission at the gate will be 75 cents.

IN ALTA LOMA

AL Council Sets 'Priorities'

Alta Loma High School Community Advisory Council met twice to discuss district goals and to establish priorities.

The 45 member committee is chaired by Dennis Delaney. Recommendations developed by the advisory council as a result of the meetings will be forwarded to the Chaffey Union High School District offices with an eye towards improving the educational program.

Here's how the committee "ranked" the order of priority for goals already set by the district some years ago:

--Help the student prepare for a productive life

--Help the student acquire an understanding of himself and his worth

--Help the student acquire a mastery of the communications and numerical skills

--Help the student develop the ability to select relevant information, reason logically and make decisions based on evidence he's evaluated

--Help the student enjoy learning

--Help the student understand the rights of responsible citizenship

--Help the student acquire an understanding of his own and other social, cultural and ethnic groups

--Provide a climate in which the student is encouraged to be creative and to be aware of the accomplishments of others

--Help the student acquire an understanding of his natural environment and a concern for the problems affecting its quality

Committee chairman George Martin stressed that the lower ranking of some goals does not indicate they have no value but their priority is slightly less than others.

ALHS Principal Steve Butters said he hopes to have teachers and students follow the same evaluation procedure in meeting requirements of a program initiated by the State Department of Education recently to involve the community to a greater extent in the affairs of its schools. The committee is scheduled to meet regularly from now on the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Forum Room of the high school. All interested citizens are invited to attend and participate in these meetings.

Food costs less at Mayfair!

Uncle Sam has helped us prove it.

We compared our prices with those of our major competitor's, item by item, using the same list the U.S. Government uses to measure food prices.

This list includes all the basic foods — meats, produce, can goods, dairy products and many others.

The total cost of buying those foods at Mayfair was less, by actual comparison, than at other leading markets.*

When we say food costs less at Mayfair, it's not just another supermarket claim — it's a fact. On discount prices, Mayfair really is more fair.

It's A Matter Of Seasoning

"Barbara and I were out driving around Upland looking at stores," Ms. Arlene Anderson said. "One of us just came up with the idea -- hey, you know, we could do that, run a store. A few days later, we were 'technically' in business. Ms. Anderson and her partner Ms. Barbara Cohen own and manage U1 Tomato, a new accessory, arts and crafts store, located at 1808 W. Foothill in Upland. "We also do interior decorating," Ms. Anderson said. "And we're hoping to start art classes in our basement sometime soon. In fact, we're getting things fixed up pretty fast. We're already registering people for the class."

Ms. Anderson and Cohen say they have "been friends for years." Their husbands work together at the Los Angeles County Special School. "My husband Bob's an art teacher," Ms. Cohen said. "He's really been helpful -- getting his friends to let us sell their work for them -- and generally advising."

"Although our husbands and kids have helped," Ms. Anderson interjected, "the business is still ours. We run it by ourselves, so it's sink or swim -- between the two of us. Luckily, I'd had interior decorating experience before going into business, and Barb was once a bookkeeper."

Local Girl Named Miss Teenage Citizen

Ms. Judy Hiramine, a senior at Upland High School, was recently named 'Miss Teenage Citizen' by the Upland Junior Women's Club. Ms. Hiramine, daughter of Mr. and Ms. K. K. Hiramine of Upland, carries a 3.0 grade point average. She was a Girls' League representative in her freshman and sophomore years, historian and vice president of the Scots II service club, an American Field Service semi-finalist, a member of the Future Teachers of America, head cheerleader, and a recipient of the DAR Good Citizen award.

As a representative of the Junior Women's Club, Ms. Hiramine will continue in the district and state competitions. She received a plaque, a $25 book fund for college, dinner for two at a local restaurant and mementos from various local merchants.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Two hundred forty one years ago, Thursday, George Washington, rated almost universally as American Citizen Number One, was born on a farm in Virginia called Wakefield.

A man of destiny, Washington was a man of great character. Throughout a troublous life, he served unselfishly and history gave him the title of "Father of His Country" most deservedly.

Because had it not been for Washington, the American Revolution might today be classed as a suppressed rebellion and the United States of America still an English crown colony.

This week we pay tribute to the man whose patriotism and purpose has never been challenged.

SPORTS

FIRST HALF PRESSURE — Alta Loma was behind by only four at half time against San Dimas, Brave hustle is shown here in a struggle to steal the ball from high scorer Jeff Nelson.

AT ALTA LOMA

Saints Defeat Alta Loma

San Dimas High managed to shake loose from Alta Loma with a 22 point third quarter to score a 59-44 win recently.

The Saints were ahead by only four points at half-time against a team they had badly beaten in their last meeting. The 13 point third period lead came through a balanced scoring attack.

The taller Saints had control of the boards throughout the contest, but made good use of the advantage during the second half, converting offensive rebounds into baskets.

Inside scoring by Brave center Ralph Judd kept the game close in the first half. Judd scored 12 of his 14 points in the first half, mostly on eight to ten foot jump shots.

Saint Coach Bob Espinoza closed Brave opportunities for inside shots during the second half with a switch from zone to man-to-man defense.

Offensive punch for the Saints was centered around Jeff Nelson, 23 points and 10 rebounds. John Schober came up with 12 and Wayne Moses threw in 10.

Alta Loma was led by Judd's 14 points and nine rebounds. Tony Lugo added 11, seven in the third period. Roger Gubichuk put in nine from his guard position.

Weekend action found San Dimas defeating Bonita 66-43, and Alta Loma tasting defeat to Ontario, 62-58.

Alta Loma Girl Athletics

The girls are busy at Alta Loma High School in athletics. A Powder Puff football game will be held Feb. 24 at 8 p.m. on the Upland High football field. Senior girls will be competing against Junior girls in the flag football contest. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents, children.

Girls Athletic Association events for February include:

—Track, Feb. 22 against Ontario at home, 3:15 p.m.

—Volleyball, Feb. 21 against Ontario at home, 3:15 p.m.

Montclair High Football Coach Resigns

Montclair High Football Coach John Whitman recently resigned from his position. Whitman has been the only grid coach in Montclair's history, taking over the sport 14 years ago in 1959 when the school opened.

Whitman lettered in both football and basketball at Chaffey College and Claremont Men's College. He served one year as head basketball coach at Imperial Junior College and was an aide for two years at Chaffey High School before taking over Montclair High duties.

"I want to spend more time with my family," Whitman announced, "and it's time to give somebody else a chance."

Wrestling Finals

By looking at the results of Saturday's San Antonio League wrestling finals at Upland High, you couldn't have guessed the Highlanders dominated the league this year.

The Scots did capture team scoring honors and qualified a high of nine wrestlers for next weekend's CIF sectionals at Fontana High, but the other five competing teams showed surprising strength.

Followed by Upland's nine qualifiers, Chino and Claremont each added seven of their grapplers to the league roster while Montclair qualified six and Garey and Ganesha each moved five into the sectionals.

Only one big surprise highlighted the day long affair in Upland's gym. Montclair's heavy-weight upset Claremont's No. 1 seeded John MacLyman in a 5-2 decision.

What was one of the most exciting championship matches of the day came during the 136 weight class battle between Claremont's Scott Renner and Chino's Paul Pimentel. Pimentel took the decision, but it took a three minute overtime session to score the 6-4 decision.

Claremont's 98 pound Gary Bronner pinned Upland's Randy Judge in the second period in the 98 pound division.

Chino's Larry Imbach (106) and Upland's Jack Glasheen (115) followed suit by pinning their opponents in the second periods. The pattern of pins was finally halted when Ganesha's 123 pounder Johnny Gonzales had to settle for a 13-1 decision over Bruce Barmakian of Upland. Gonzales wrestled with a brace around his shoulder, injured two weeks ago.

Chino's Mark Roberts (141) and Larry Newsome (148) won their titles on falls. Cliff Brown, Upland and John Simons of Claremont fought to a 4-3 decision, Simons claiming the victory.

The two finalists in each weight class, plus the winner of the consolation championship, qualify for sectionals next weekend.

Cavaliers Defeat Pomona

The Cavaliers scored their sixth SAL victory Friday night, defeating Pomona 54-49.

At no point during the contest were the Cavaliers assured of victory. Pomona stayed constantly within reach of an upset. An eight point shooting spree by Montclair's Terry Baird put the Cav's over the top in fourth quarter action.

Also featured for Montclair was David King, who came in second in scoring on his team with 14 points and four fourth quarter rebounds. King was unable to escape the foul trouble that kept both teams at a disadvantage throughout the game and fouled out in the last period. Baird's final quarter drive carried the Cavaliers to third place in the SAL.

FOOTSTEPS TO HEALTH

By
Arthur R. Jessup, D.C.
PERIODIC SPINAL EXAMINATIONS

The best safeguard against illness and disease is to practice a program of health care, including periodic spinal examinations. Doing so will bring forth early signs of malfunction or disease, and, with treatment, can ward off future health problems. A good Doctor of Chiropractic will check for spinal nerve involvement, and through specific adjustments, he will work to correct spinal disorders, thus avoiding dangerous and complicated health problems. Remember, drugs only mask pain and symptoms and can not replace misaligned vertebrae impinging nerves. That can only be accomplished thru a series of bimanual corrective Chiropractic adjustments. If you wish to join the 35 million Chiropractic patients in a naturally healthful life, try Chiropractic.
